

LEADER SUPPORTS CHAMPIONS OF THE FUTURE

Kavak LAG supports sports clubs within the scope of its priority "Developing the cultural and social life of the community and supporting collective local organizations, associations and NGOs".

Kavak is a district where traditionally successful athletes in Taekwondo are trained, and this tradition continues today. Samsun Kavak Youth Sports Club has 80 taekwondo athletes, 21 of which are national team athletes. Club athletes win championships and rank several degrees in various arenas such as the World Championship, World Para-Taekwondo Championship, European Clubs Championship.

Ensuring permanence in success depends on training the athletes in a disciplined manner and with modern equipment from a young age. New technological products make a difference -especially in training equipment and methods- on the way to success. Clubs that renew themselves in this field can achieve continuity in success.

However, being able to catch up with the developments in equipment and training techniques is a matter that requires financial resources first of all. Today, sports clubs have difficulties in finding financial resources in branches other than football. In small districts, on the other hand, as this problem becomes even more vital, many sports clubs are in danger of closing. This situation increases the risk of young people turning to various bad habits in these regions where socialization opportunities are already limited.

At this point, LEADER projects aimed at improving the cultural and social life of the community gain importance. Sports clubs in rural areas supported by these projects have the opportunity to obtain an important external source.

Among the materials supplied to the Kavak Youth and Sports Club within the scope of the project are equipment such as a mannequin with multiple rackets, helmets, gloves, arm and shin guards.

The aim is to make sportive successes permanent.

Sports club trainers state that the multi-racquet model is very useful because it allows more than one athlete to train at the same time.

With this support, it is predicted that the number of licensed taekwondo athletes in Kavak will increase and permanence in success will be ensured.
